1. DEAR FUTURE ME.

<https://www.futureme.org/>

The screenshot shows the FutureMe website's letter writing interface. At the top, there are navigation links: 'future me', 'Write a Letter to the Future', 'Read Public Letters', 'fm for business and education', 'Blog', 'Press & Props', 'Sign In', and 'Sign Up'. The main title is 'Write a letter to your future self'. Below it, a sub-instruction says 'Write. Pick a receiving date. Send. Verify. That's it 😊' and a safety assurance 'Your letter is safe with us - we've sent over 20 million letters in 20 years!'. The central area is a large white text box with a placeholder 'Dear FutureMe,'. To the right of the text box are several configuration options: 'Full screen' (with a dashed line icon), 'Deliver in' (with a dropdown showing '6 months', '1 year', '3 years', '5 years', and '10 years'), 'Or choose a date', 'Select your audience' (with 'Private' and 'Public, but anonymous' buttons), 'Make sure you get your letter' (with a 'Please enter an email' input field), 'Pick your style' (with radio buttons for 'Send just this letter' (Free) and 'Send this letter + Support FutureMe' ($3)), and a note about receiving a confirmation email and agreeing to the 'Terms of use'. At the bottom right is a large orange 'Send to the Future' button.
